“ I believe I met Daisy a few times but I did not know her very well. I just want to say that she was loved by her family and she loved them as well. It's so hard when a loved one passes away but we must remember that there is a God above us. This God has repaired a place for Daisy and all of us, that one day we may be made whole and be united with our loving and precious family. The reuniting of family is an amazing gift that we are given but the most precious is to be united with the one that created us and wants the best for us. That being said, in this moment of sadness we must remember that He has a bigger plan beyond this life. May my love and condolences go out to the family and all those affected by this loss.

“ I didn't know Daisy but I have had the honor of meeting and spending time with some of her children and grandchildren.. A while back I heard the amazing story of how her and her husband met and became each other's happily ever after! It was by far the most touching love story I have ever heard!! How these two beautiful people found each other and overcame obstacles together to create a family for themselves. A family that is inseperable, and one of the most close nit clans I have ever witnessed. I know her passing is hard on all of you but just think of how happy she is to now be reunited with her soulmate!
